Thursday, October 16th – Sunday, October 19th, 2008

October 16th promises to be a great day when the new exhibition centre in Munich will open its doors for the first German “Millionaire Fair 2008”. It will be the 15th Millionaire Fair since its foundation in 2002 and each year it becomes increasingly popular. The event, which was originally organised by a Dutchman, Yves Gijrath, has been hosted in cities such as Amsterdam, Moscow and Shanghai. Now, Munich will be added to the list of venues to host this highly successful fair. In a way it is a celebration for Munich’s 850th anniversary.

The “Millionaire Fair” is synonymous for excitement, fascination, creativity, unparalleled glamour and pure life style. Much of its success is due to the exclusive brands and products and the unique framework of its programme. In previous years, the red carpet will be rolled out for many national and international stars who also want to keep up with the latest trends.

Many personalities from public life are expected to attend the VIP night on the evening before the official opening. For example, guests have included Anna Kournikova, Elizabeth Hurley, Joan Collins, Brian Ferry and the Blue Man Group. Saturday night, however, is dedicated to fashion. The Fashion Night unites the Haute Couture of famous couturiers and the creations of young, fresh designers on the catwalk. It is all about seeing and being seen ...

You can also expect culinary fine wines, champagne and exquisite snacks by the famous delicatessen “Feinkost Käfer”.

Up until 19 October approximately 125 brands and companies from all over the world will be presenting their latest and most exclusive products and services over 16,000 m² of exhibition space. There will be jewellery, fashion life style products, as well as private jets, yachts and elegant sport cars on offer.
